Market Goes Higher and Takes Liberal Realizing Well-Cables Strong.

Monday Afternoon, July 7.

Developments over the holidays evidently were regarded as favorable to the buil side of cotton, for prices worked considerably higher today and the liberal iquidation was absorbed without much impression being made on the advance. There was nothing startling in the news, and much of the strength seemed to be based on a general feeling that the crop is not improving much and that a short yield is bractically assured.

Over the holidays some rains fell, in certain districts liberal, while the map this morning shewed some more in portions of the helt. The rains were not particularly needed where they were received, and they aggravated concern over the weevil. However, advices from some sections had a degree of optimism in them and all the accounts coming to hand were got unfavorable. The forecast this morning was for fair as a rule, although some showers may be reasived by the lower portions of the belt and eastward.

One factor belong in the buying disposition was said to be the expectation.

was some disposition to accept some profits.

Another factor was that Liverpool came better than expected and finished steady at a set gain of $2 to 68 points. Private cables said the strength was due to better feeling regarding the strike and a hope for carry settlement, although visible progress toward such was lacking. The continent was also said to be doing some buying. The more distant positions were strongest. Spots were marked up 46 points, midding to 20d, with sales 2,000 bales, including 1,760 American. Receipts were $5,000 bales, including 1,760 American. Receipts were $5,000 bales, including $1,800 American. British consols were off some and the easiness in sterling exchange was somewhat of a factor, but this did not seem to offset the effect of strike prospects. First prices on this side were firm and higher, reflecting cables and the weather and political advices over the holidays. In New York October stood at 33.65c, a rise of 49 points, btu it reacted to 33.45c before support was sufficient to turn the tide. The up swing carried it to 34.64c, but profits were taken around 24c and a little setback followed. The dip extended to 33.68c, but later there was renewed buying. Including some from abroad, and the list went back almost to the top. However, as the advance extended willingness to take profits increased and there was backing and filling within a narrow range.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The cotton market showed renewed strength at the opening today. The early news showed no serious damage from the storm, the appearance of which had been largely responsible for Thursday's advance, but Liverpool made a very firm showing over the local holidays and the opening here was 40 to 69 points higher, with October selling at 33.70c and December at 33.54c. There was a good deal of realizing at this level, causing reactions if 20 or 25 points from the best after the call, with the market becoming comparatively quiet and irregular. Liverpool and domestic trade buying absorbed the sales of local traders on the early setback and the market became very firm during the middle of the morning with October selling up to 34.03 and Japuary to 33.50, or about 80 to 162 points net higher. Increasing complaints of boil weevil damage and the continued sitrength of Liverpool were the factors on the advance which encountered sufficient realizing to cause reactions of several points later in the morning. Shorts in Corn Nervous and Further Advance Is Made. Hogs Go Up Again.

CHICAGO. July 7.—Nervousness on the part of shorts led to wild advances today in the corn market. All deliveries jumped to the highest level yet this season. Continued record-breaking upturns in the value of hoge did much to stimulate belief that corn would ascend, especially as arrivals of corn here were expected to diminish soon to a material extent. Opening prices which ranged from $4 c off to 15c advance with September $1.825, were followed by a slight sag, and then by a radical advance all around, including it for July, to $1.94. The December option developed weakness later as a result of bearish cropreports. Nearer months remained strong, influenced partly by foreign orders to purchase and by higher quotations in Argentina. The market closed irregular at a range varying from 15c net decline to 35c advance, with September $1.885 to $1585 and December $1.815 to $1.515.
